Lost but not lost

Here is Matthew Burton to introduce this section:

Have you ever felt lost?

Sometimes we all feel lost and it might be during the following situations:

- Moving schools
- Moving home
- Going to a new club
- Playing a new sport
- Trying a new skill or task
- Solving a problem

Starting a new school can make you feel a bit lost BUT remember that you are NOT ALONE.

We can often have fears of being lost and that is okay.

You don't need to worry about being lost and here is why!

1. Your class will have some older students who will look after you.
2. They will show you where to go and will pick you up and drop you off to your lessons for the first couple of weeks.
3. Everyone else in your form class will be feeling exactly the same.
4. Your form tutor is there to help you.
5. You will get a tour of the school when you get to us and, before that some high schools will have video tours on the school website for you to look at.
6. Your high school will be full of staff who want to help you – ask them!

Being physically lost is more obvious, but sometimes we can also feel emotionally lost. These are some of the signs:

Missing what you know

Not interested in hobbies

Unable to concentrate

Wishing things were the same as before

Lack motivation

Feeling numb

Feeling hopeless

Feeling helpless

If you are worried then sometimes you can experience:

Feeling sick

Feeling tired or having no energy

Trouble
sleeping

Feeling tense

Feeling anxious

Having a headache

Not feeling hungry

We all have times when we feel a bit strange because everything is different. This is a normal part of going through change and it does pass.

Remember when Matthew Syed talked about a ‘growth mindset’?
Now is the time to remind yourself of that!

In your workbook, change the statements on the left so that they are positive and hopeful. Your brain sometimes tells you negative things that are not based on fact. Your job is to tell your brain that there is another way to think and that it is wrong sometimes!

Statement	Transform it!
I won't ever fit in.	This is not true – I will find people who are like me; I just need to find them!
I will always be lost.
I can't do these subjects.
I won't make friends like I had in Year 6.
I miss my primary school.
One of your own:

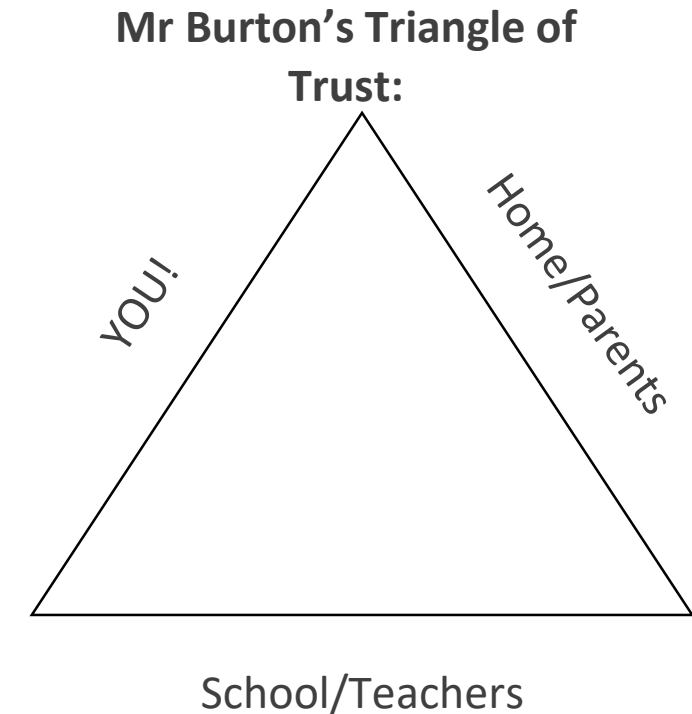

Matthew suggests some ways to help when you feel both kinds of 'lost' – emotionally and physically!

1. Ask your way around.
2. Accept help and find your 'go-to' person – someone you feel able to go to if you have questions or concerns. Your tutor might be that person.
3. Be honest – tell people how you feel.
4. Do your research – work out where things are.
5. Make sure you have your Triangle of Trust (more in a moment).
6. Don't look back – focus on this new world.

This is the Triangle of Trust

- Write down who is in your Triangle of Trust. Put their names on the triangle in your workbook.
- Who can you talk to about different things?
- What three things make you feel happy and good?
- Where is your safe place to just relax?

Starting anything new is both exciting and a bit scary BUT it is worth it because being at high school is going to build on all of the great things you have experienced at primary school. It is the time when you are going to work out what kind of person you want to be and the kind of things you like.

Soon you will be in a routine and everything will become familiar. That 'new Year 7' feeling doesn't last very long.

After a week, you will start to feel at home.

Now start to let yourself feel excited!

Going to high school will be great because you meet loads of new people.

That means there will be more room to swim and more fish to jump around with!

Gemma can help us navigate some of these feelings too.
